

The UPS man came from heaven's door. He attempted to make his delivery but no one answered. He was instructed to leave the packages just the same. The packages were plain with the words Free Gift Paid in Full written on each of them. The packages were taken in the house but each were left unopened. One package was kindness for a wounded person. Another was the time to listen and love. Still another was wisdom for trouble and fear. Compassion and tenderness was left unused. Still another was comfort for a broken heart and lost dreams. A solution for anger was unopened tossed aside. An answer for doubt and confusion remained tightly closed. The package of patience lay gathering dust. The package stuffed with love waited to be opened and used. The UPS man from heaven is knocking at your door with some packages. Yes free gifts paid in full. What will you do with His packages today?