

Forgotten. You spend much of your life trying to be remembered in some way. You pursue fame and fortune in a struggle for recognition. You talk about your accomplishments or you want people to remember them. Fame and fortune are but a flicker in the minds of men. They will fade, fail, and pass away. Why do you spend so much energy chasing what will burn and be thrown away? I Jesus offer you the eternal and unforgotten prize of a life with Me in My everlasting kingdom. I will never forget you or leave you. I love you now and always. I remember you constantly with mercy and forgiveness. Loving Me and others will bring you an unforgettable reward. Do not chase the wind. Pursue Me and you will be loved and remembered for all of time. Yes even beyond then. For blessed are those who find their names in My book of eternal life I remember you but will you remember me? Those who chase the wind will be forgotten in the land of folly and shame.