

KEG

I will enable you to do things that you have never done before. Obstacles will melt away because of My blessing and power. You will see and understand things that you have not seen and understood. A new time has come. It is here now. A time of shaking change and revolution. I will put people in their places. I will make things level. In this time My enemies will shake before Me. Deceptions will dissolve. New creations shall be put in place. Lift up your eyes and hearts and behold the joy and justice of your God.
